Says Literature Was "Some of Most Scatological Stuff" He Ever Read

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, Feb. 12.—The French government presented to the league of nations commission last night an article creating an international military force. The contention of Leon Bourgeois, who presented the article, is that the international force proposed must be of sufficient proportions to prevent Germany or any other country from breaking the peace, or if the peace were broken, to restore it promptly again by the collective power. M. Bourgeois, alluding to the apprehension existing in France as to the German danger, stated that there was grave danger confronting France if an international force was not constantly in being and organized for instant action.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Success of the Bolshevik movement in Russia was attributed to aid from the lower east side of New York, by Rev. G. A. Simons, former head of the Methodist Episcopal church in Russia, testifying today at the senate judiciary sub-committee's inquiry into lawless agitation in the United States.

The witness also said the predominating influence of the Jewish population in the lower east side of New York was not in sympathy with anti-semitic movements and that in stating his views, meant to cast no reflection upon Jews who were peace-loving.

Pro-Germanism Developed
Immediately after the Kerensky revolution early in 1917, Dr. Simons said, sentiment in Russia was pro-ally with a few months, when the Bolshevik movement developed, a strong pro-German current developed with more than half the agitators Jews, including many from New York. The witness said a woman, a member of his church and a teacher in a school in Petrograd, head-teacher of the Bolsheviks before they overthrew Kerensky, frequently saw German officers at a council table with Bolshevik leaders at the time the documents bearing German stamps on the table and hearing German spoken more frequently than Russian.

Dr. Simons suggested this language might have been yiddish instead of German.

Tells of Proposed Strike
Dr. Simons declared that before Russia entered the war he heard that hundreds of thousands of rubles had been placed by Germans in the hands of labor leaders in Petrograd to cause a strike in industrial plants and thereby cripple Russia after war opened. This strike was put down by the old regime.

Dr. Simons said he now was having investigated a report that the governing committee of the northern commune in Petrograd, 1918, contained 150 Jews, 100 Russians, 265 persons from New York and one American negro calling himself Prof. Gordon.

Denounces Rand Literature
Dr. Simons frequently visited the Rand school of social science in New York to buy its literature which he describes as "some of the most scatological stuff I have ever found." He added that 12 or 15 persons at the school were Jews. The witness told the committee that Bolshevik agitators persistently followed him when he delivered lectures on Russia.

Called "Seventy-Six Jews" and "Jews of Bolshevism" in Russia," written by Albert Rhys Williams, one of the recent speakers at a recent meeting in Washington which prompted the senate committee's new inquiry.

SEN. ARNOLD WILL PROBABLY HOLD SEAT

Madison, Feb. 12.—That Senator Louis A. Arnold, socialist, Milwaukee, will probably retain his seat in the United States senate was indicated from the trend of the questions asked by the committee hearing Tuesday afternoon. A contest to oust Arnold from his seat was held by David L. Wilson, Democrat, who was asked to withdraw the resolution. The discussion indicated that the action is not properly before the senate; that the depositions taken before the committee are not properly filed as required by the rules.

"These depositions have not been filed as required by the statutes," said Senator Ray P. Wilcox, Eau Claire, in cross-examining Harry R. McLogan, who appeared against Arnold at the hearing.

"I think the senate should take action nevertheless," said Mr. Logan.

You do not advise the legislature to fly in the face of its own enactments," continued Mr. Wilcox. "Statutes are made to govern legislatures as well as others."

Senator John Conant said that Arnold had made no disloyal statements within the reach of the statute, and Wilcox suggested that the United States statute has set the precedent that statements made outside of the body are not to be considered.

Arguments were made by F. F. Lester, who filed a brief showing that Arnold had been elected by 192 votes. McLogan contended that Arnold was in charge of the socialist campaign and that the party had endorsed the St. Louis platform. Senator Benney announced that the depositions would be discussed by the committee and an announcement would be made later.

Asks Use of Warships
London.—The German government has asked permission from the armistice commission to use warships against the Bolsheviks.

1809---Abraham Lincoln---1919

Today is the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, martyred president of the United States. Lincoln was born near Hodgenville, Laue county, Kentucky, Feb. 12, 1809. He was inaugurated in 1861 at the age of 52 years and served four years. He died from an assassin's bullet at Washington, in 1865.

SALARY BILL WOULD SWELL PURSES OF 7,000 SCHOOL 'MAMS'

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Feb. 12.—That 7,000 Wisconsin school teachers will have their salaries increased, if the legislature gives final enactment to the bill increasing the minimum salary to $200 a month is the statement of the state department of public instruction. There are 16,000 teachers in the state. The first teachers salary bill was passed by the 1913 session of the legislature fixing the minimum at $40. The 1915 session increased it to $46 and now it is proposed to advance the minimum to $200.

Wisconsin bakers will have an opportunity to make their last bid for bread. Senator Geo. B. Skogmo, River Falls, offered a bill fixing the standard of the loaf of bread. There will then be a public hearing on the bill. A similar bill was before the senate two years ago and was defeated by a close vote.

Assemblyman John Chapple, Ashland, would count anything previously said by a railroad crossing. He offered a bill requiring all automobiles to stop at railroad crossings. There will be strong opposition to this measure.

Ebert Is First President Ever Chosen By German People to Head Their Own State

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Weimar, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—Pealing church bells announced to the people of Weimar this afternoon that the German folk for the first time in history had chosen the head of their own state.

Friedrich Ebert, former saddler and socialist leader, appeared before the theater 20 minutes later and received as president of Germany those plaudits formally made the appearance of the monarch who once stigmatized the party to which President Ebert belongs as being made up of members "unworthy to bear the name of German."

Crowds Attend Election.
Despite the certainty of Herr Ebert's election the theater was crowded this afternoon beyond anything previously known since the opening of the national assembly. The gallery resembled the reichstag tribune in old days with men and women in gala attire jammed in every available inch of space. The boxes and balconies were crowded.

A voting by ballot caused confusion as the delegates struggled along the narrow aisles. Great crowds massed outside during the session waiting patiently in the cold for a chance to see the new president when he left the building, which he did immediately after a brief speech of acceptance. He smilingly acknowledged the ovation given him.

Solitary Votes Get Laugh.
The vote against him probably came from the solid conservative block and a few of the old national liberals, while the independent socialists and

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 12.—Delegates from the Seattle metal trades union urged unions of that city to join Seattle metal workers in a strike to obtain the original demands made to the Macy board by coast ship workers. Delegates to shipyard reaffirmed their determination to remain out at a meeting last night.

Miners Refuse Terms
London, Feb. 12.—The conference of the miners' federation of Great Britain at a meeting at Southport today decided against acceptance of the terms offered by the government. The miners' federation has 500,000 members. The conference adopted the following resolution:

"We reject the terms offered by the government as not being in reply to the miners' demands. We will continue to work on the basis of the executive committee's duty of laying before the conference a proposal as to what should be the next step to press our demands for a wage increase in regard to the demand for a six hour day, the government must, in considering the increases in the cost of production, take into account the fact that the miners' work is a staple of other occupations, think of the consequences upon the general trade situation. The government proposed a strong representative conference on which the miners would be represented, to inquire into this question. In regard to the demand for 30 per cent increase in wages, the government said it was willing to add a shilling a day to the present wage bonus and to refer other demands in connection with wages to the representatives committee."

Janesville Due for Phenomenal Growth, General Motors Head Tells Flint, Michigan, Citizens

"Janesville is due for a phenomenal growth," was the statement made, recently by W. C. Durant, president of the General Motors corporation at a banquet given in Flint, Michigan, the home of the enterprise.

Mr. Durant compared Janesville with Flint and remarked that the growth of this city would be as rapid as Flint. A few years ago Flint was a small town, but doubled its population in a few months, due to the growth of the General Motors.

Mr. Durant stated that "the General Motors propose to build in that town a factory with 5,000 employees. But, we are going to do it gradually. Here in Flint the growth was too rapid and it rather got away from us. We are not going to make the same mistake again. Labor is going to be properly housed and we are not going to the millstones around the necks of our employees. I met with the Chamber of Commerce there and made out a declaration of principles, which are the same in Janesville, in Flint, or wherever we go. We are asking for no preferences, no favors, and are willing at all times to do our part and just a little bit more."

Further Mr. Durant told of the almost unbelievable growth of his concern. The General Motors now stands as the fifth largest business institution in the United States, he said.

JAPANESE MINISTER BRANDS REPORTS AS ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Tokyo, Monday, Feb. 10.—Kijuro Shidehara, vice foreign minister of Japan, speaking today regarding the publication of Chinese treaties with Japan, said the latter "had simply called to China's attention the established procedure according to which the government has a right to publish confidential matters without previously consulting the other."

Mr. Shidehara spoke for Viscount Tachibana, foreign minister, who is suffering from pneumonia. "Japan has no intention to interfere with any demands or contentions which the Chinese might present at the peace conference," he said. "Accordingly Peking and Paris reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

LABOR AND DEBT ISSUES AT STAKE

SECONDARY PROGRAM OF PEACE CONFERENCE CONTAINS IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

LONDONERS HOLD OUT

London Will Fight Proposed
National Pooling System.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, Feb. 12.—While President Wilson and the allied plenipotentiaries are perfecting the plan for the creation of a society of nations and arranging the new terms to be imposed upon Germany for a renewal of the armistice, expiring next Monday, other subjects of importance are being proposed.

Foremost on this secondary program are the recommendations of the commission on international labor legislation. The commission is one of the few having an American at its head and Samuel Gompers, chairman, has been pushing work along at a fast pace.

There have been difficulties in reconciling the diverse views of British and American labor interests. Financial Experts Confer.
Meetings are going on today between men who have come to Paris at the call of President Wilson and the plenipotentiaries to deal with financial problems arising out of the war. In no place is it regarded as so evident that there must be the fullest and most cordial co-operation and the most complete restoration of the stability of currency, reduction of a reasonable level, get rid of superfluous issues of war paper, prevent further excessive fluctuations of exchange and regulate the rates of interest on, and the amount of bonds to be issued.

Already initial steps have been taken to commit the peace conference to the creation of a permanent international pooling system of debts which shall include all neutral nations; whether they wish to or not. This will meet with the most determined resistance from the American and British plenipotentiaries. That America did her full share in aiding the allies by furnishing troops and almost unlimited supplies of money and material.

Prospect Monetary Credit.
They are understood to be quite willing to let France of the nightmare of German power, in extending further credits to permit France to obtain the necessary funds to enable her and Belgium to hold their own in the world's market, but they thoroughly appreciate the fact that it is beyond their power to commit their country to participation in a permanent credit system with European powers.

Prospects are brightening for the assembling of at least four of the Russian factions at the conference on Princes Jellicoe.

Ukraine to Participate.
Word has come from the Ukraine that the government of that part of Russia will participate in the conference. The success is believed to depend upon the willingness of the soviet to give certain guarantees, such as the cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of the Bolshevik forces from the provinces which they have invaded.

It is believed that a special commission will be appointed to study Belgian claims and to make a report in consideration of the territorial problems, says a Havas report. In addition to Marshal Poch, Marshal Pétain and Field Marshal Haig, General Pershing and General Diaz will present at today's session of the supreme war council to deal with the terms for the renewal of the armistice.

SIBERIAN RAILWAY TRAFFIC IS AIDED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Feb. 12.—Acting Secretary of War D. H. Garrison said that the United States had formally accepted the proposal of the Japanese government in regard to plans for the restoration of railway traffic in Siberia.

"The purpose of the agreement," Mr. Polk's statement said, "is to assist the Russians in Siberia in regaining their normal condition of life, and it has been reached upon a definite understanding that the railways are to be operated for the interests of the people of Siberia. The United States and Japan have expressly voiced their disinterested purpose not to infringe on any existing right either of Russia or China."

Under the plan, the Siberian railway system, which includes the Chinese eastern railway, is to be supervised by an international committee with a Russian as chairman. In addition to Russia, Japan and the United States have been asked to be represented.

RECORDS OF INCOME TAXES SHOULD BE OPEN, SAYS BLAINE

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOLDS
THAT LEGISLATURE CAN DEMAND INFORMATION.

SUGGESTS REVISION

Points Out Remedial Legislation;
Federal Court Ruling Adverse.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Feb. 12.—That the Wisconsin legislature can demand income tax information derived from the assessment rolls and tax rolls and any proceedings before any county board of review is the opinion of Atty. Gen.
John Blaine in the taxation committee
of the Wisconsin assembly today.

The opinion is called forth by the passage of a resolution in the assembly asking for certain income tax information on which the resolution declares a new schedule is to be based.
The resolution passed the senate unanimously, but was halted in the house for an opinion.

Attorney General Blaine holds that any information asked for by the resolution that can be obtained from the assessment rolls and tax rolls and the proceedings had before a county board of review can be divulged.

Incidentally the attorney general
calls to the attention of the legislature that it has the power to call any witness to appear and testify and has wide discretionary powers with respect to the investigation and the questions
that may be asked and that the house
of the senate to prevent the legislature from conducting any investigation it may see fit.

Attorney General Blaine points out that the decision of the federal court
in the Valentin Condensed Milk case,
interpreting the section of the statute
under consideration, with respect to divulging information contained in individual and corporate returns prohibits the divulging of information in respect thereto.

Attorney General Blaine says that it is not within the province of the department to initiate legislation or advocate policies. He says, however,
that when a glaring situation appears
and his attention has been called to
it, he states that he would be derelict
in his duty if he did not point out remedial legislation. He suggests that the present income tax law be amended so that any record of the taxing officers of the state or any department thereof should be made subject to inspection.

PENROSE CRITICISES ADDITION OF RIDERS TO REVENUE BILL

Washington, Feb. 12.—Fewer than a dozen senators attended today's opening discussion of the revenue bill levying $6,000,000,000 in taxes this year and $4,000,000,000,000 hereafter,
which was begun in the senate today by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, ranking republican of the senate managers.

Naming the provision to levy 100
per cent taxes on campaign contributions, which was eliminated by the conference, the "bone dry" prohibition amendment affecting the District of Columbia, the child labor clause and the special tax on pistols, Senator Penrose said the rules should be changed to prevent the practice of adding unrelated matters to revenue legislation.

Senator Penrose said the provision for a bonus of $60 to persons discharged from the military service was adopted for patriotic reasons, although possibly a violation of conference rules.

Regret that the conference committee was obliged to raise the second bracket of the excess profits taxes
from sixty to sixty-five percent was expressed by Senator Penrose who said
the longer he considered it, the more he thought taxes were reaching the danger point.

Regarding elimination of the senate amendment to repeal the zone rates on second class mail, Senator Penrose
said the senate conferences were forced to yield.

What he termed wasteful appropriations and expenditures were scored by Senator Penrose, pointing out that the bill's reduction from eight to six billion dollars, was "more apparent
than realized because the large part
was covered in losses from prohibition legislation." He attacked especially the recent $100,000,000 appropriation for European famine relief.

NOLAN BILL ALTERS SUPERVISORS' BOARD

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Feb. 12.—Cities and villages may get an increased representation on the county boards of the state.
Assemblyman T. S. Nolan, Janesville, offers a bill in the house today,
which is intended to promote the equalization of representation on the county boards. The bill provides for representation as follows:

"Every ward or part thereof of any city, every incorporated village or part of such village shall be represented in the county board of supervisors of the county in which such ward or

Assemblyman Thomas A. Delaney,
Green Bay, offered a bill in the house
today which provides that a work day shall be a day of eight hours. The measure provides a minimum wage of $3.50 for common labor employees of a state, city or county and further declares that skilled employees hired by a state, city or county shall be paid on the same scale as other skilled laborers are receiving for similar work. He also offered a bill providing for a closed season for milk and muskrat
in Brown county for a period of two years.

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL IS CONSIDERED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Feb. 12.—Consideration of the $1,000,000,000 army appropriation bill began today in the house. Chairman Dent of the military committee read the reports announced last week by General March showing that approximately 175,000
men had been returned from overseas
and that more than 1,600,000 still are on foreign soil.

Mr. Dent said the war department had informed him that it had spent and obligated in the war more than $16,000,000,000. Amounts paid in the United States total $10,190,556,755,
showing that the expeditionary force
abroad $1,210,239,245, with unpaid obligation amounting to $4,856,578-247.

Estimated stocks on hand were reported as follows: Quartermaster corps, $1,670,000,000; ordnance department, $600,000,000; air service,
$500,000,000; and signal corps, $25-000,000.

HENEY DENOUNCES PACKERS' TESTIMONY

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Feb. 12.—Francis J.
Henev, who has been examining packers' witnesses before the senate interstate commerce committee, appeared today before the house committee and denounced the testimony given there by the five leading packers. He declared the attacks upon the federal trade commission were virulent and unjustified.

"An example of the unreliability of the packers' testimony," he said, "is their statement that the federal trade commission never gave them an opportunity to state their side of the case.
The truth is no packer requested at any time to be heard."

ROAD BUILDING.

Every citizen in Rock county who is interested in the welfare of his community should make every possible effort to encourage the building
of every possible mile of road.

Everything points to the necessity
of having this work done at this time.
The county needs the roads, the men who are being discharged from the army and navy need the work. The coming of spring should usher in the greatest era of road-building this country has ever known.

The problem of unemployment will be more serious this spring than at any other time since the winter following the outbreak of the European war. Business experts offer the opinion that by next fall the present period of readjustment will have been safely passed, and that there will be plenty of work for everybody. But in the meantime there is a need for considerable unemployment unless many public works are got under way.

With unemployment comes unrest, for rich opportunity for the Belshoviki, who are trying to spread their destructive doctrine through the United States.

Roads can take the first place
among public works which are needed in Rock county. During the last few years little has been done on highways. There are 51 miles of roads to be constructed in the county and it is desirable for as much of this as possible to be built at once, even though
the county has to bond to raise funds for the work.

One of the serious problems confronting the country is the high cost of living. One of the causes of high food prices may be found in bad country roads. The farmer can sell at a lower price if he is able to produce at a lower price and he cannot produce at a low price if he is handicapped by having to drag his produce over poor roads. Tons of food rot annually on the farms because of the farmers' inability, by reason of these bad highways, to haul his products to market. Both the farmers and the consumers in the city suffer. Give the farmer good roads and he will be able to sell fresh produce at a much lower price and still make a fair profit.

Good roads bring joy to both the farmer and the city dweller. Those who live in the country desire good highways leading into the trading centers and city folks desire good roads to get out and mingle with their neighbors.

It is not long ago when the problem
in this country. Anyone will agree that there is room for great improvement.
A start at this time will develop into a program which will mean money in our pockets later.

BACKS PEACE PLAN.

In these days when every one is striving to get out of the turmoil
in which the war has thrown the world, it is natural for men to make capital of the alleged mistakes of those whom they oppose.

The radicals have seized the opportunity to blame capitalists for the dissatisfaction and unrest which has been displayed in the ranks of the masses.

Socialists have contended that American big business thrives on war.
But this assertion is not well founded.
It has once more been revealed that the United States Chamber of Commerce has taken an active interest in behalf of a league of nations. The chamber has not only gone on record
as favoring such a league to secure the blessings of permanent peace, but has also taken an active campaign to cultivate a strong public opinion in favor of President Wilson's world
league plan.

This cablegram has been sent to President Wilson by President
Wheeler of the Chamber: "American business records itself unqualifiedly
in favor of such an international association as you have been advocating."

A committee has been appointed by the national chamber, the purpose of which will be to urge and promote throughout the whole country, public meetings and to distribute materials setting forth the ideals behind the league of nations.

That certain large American corporations have conducted their affairs
in such a manner as to forfeit the confidence and good will of the general public, no one will deny. These corporations have not hesitated to profit from war times. Some form of punishment should be meted out for them and their activities along illegitimate lines should be curbed. But for the shortcomings of a few, it is foolish and unfair to condemn all of our captains of industry. The unanimity with which the United States Chamber of Commerce is working for permanent world peace indicates that socialists have no corner on idealism.

The American doughboy over in northern Russia wants to come home.
He is not worrying about any proposition to save Russia or the collecting of Europe's debt or the advancement of commercial opportunities. The American soldier is too wise to be flow any such bunk. He has been asking for the last five months "Why am I here?" He did not enlist to act as a policeman in Russia. He was sent to Europe to fight Germany and her allies. He should be brought home at once.

A Connecticut man hoarded $1,000
by holding out an egg a day when he collected eggs in his hen house. This sum was turned over to his wife on when he practiced the hoarding. Just before he died he had been able to store all of those eggs as safely as some of our cold storage friends, and sold them all within the last few months perhaps he would have been able to turn over many times $1,000

to his wife on his death.

Even King George of England sees
the advisability of paying attention to those problems which confront his kingdom. He has urged legislative bodies to act resolutely in stamping
out poverty, diminishing unemployment, and improving the health of the nation. Although England is doing her share at the peace table
she is not overlooking any bets at home.

Fifty-four Bolsheviks who sometime in the past arrived at Ellis Island with the opportunity of enjoying the privileges of the home of the brave and the land of the free, are again back to that entrance to democracy. They are in disgrace because they have failed to come out
refined in America's great melting pot.
More of such drags should be dumped
on that slag pile of undesirable aliens.

A fight has been started in the legislature to take the secrecy provision out of the state income tax law. A bill has been offered in the upper house to repeal that section of the statute which prohibits the disclosure of income tax returns. There appears to be no good reason why income tax returns should not be made public any more than the real estate assessment roll.

The strikers at Seattle evidently saw the handwriting on the wall. The general strike ended at noon, Tuesday.
The businesslike manner in which the city administration got on the job,
coupled with the federal government's quick action in deporting agitators, evidently somewhat cooled the ardor of those who were looking for trouble.

The members of the various church
league bowling teams have finished their first round of match play, partook of a sumptuous banquet and are now ready to start down the home stretch. Whether the feast had a good effect upon the bowlers or not
will be determined by a glance at future scores.

Nothing better than plenty of work
to keep a man young. This was demonstrated Monday by Thomas A.
Edison, who celebrated his seventy-second birthday. To prove that long hours of toil had not impaired his agility he did a few fancy kicks and steps before a number of friends.

The Wisconsin senate made another progressive step Tuesday when it sent to engrossment a bill increasing the minimum salary for school teachers, from $15 to $70 a month. If ever a class of workers deserved consideration as far as salary is concerned,
the teachers belong to it.

Victor L. Berger and four other socialists convicted under the espionage
act in Judge Landis' court are fighting
hard to keep out of Leavenworth prison. Decision on the motion of the defense for a new trial has been postponed for another week.

We have always contended that William G. McAdoo is a man of excellent judgment. This contention is borne out by his announcement that he will not be a candidate for president.

Nat Goodwin left an estate of only $8,000. Considering that the late comedian perhaps paid a high alimony tax, Nat was lucky to have that much of his estate remaining.

Let Allen Pay
Let no guilty man escape. If a class
five alien made seven dollars a day
by being a slacker while our own boys

lars a month let the alien pay for the glory by paying a tax on every dollar

they pay the tax.—Kenosha News.

FORTY YEARS AGO

12, 1879.—The criminal case against Fox and Mills for overdriving Yeaker's and McKee's horses, is not to be tried again. It has been left to justice Baich to decide on the evidence taken in the trial which caused the jury to disagree. Justice Baich will decide the

How Egyptians Reaped Grain.
The ancient Egyptians reaped their grain close to the ear and afterward
cut the straw close to the ground and laid it by. It was this straw that Pharoah refused to give to the Israelites.
It was because of this refusal to give the longer straw to the Israelites that they were compelled to gather "stubble."
This was a matter of considerable difficulty, seeing that the straw itself had been cut off near to the ground.

The Balanced Ration.
We hear much of the balanced ration, and it is most important when you are feeding cows and chickens.
But there is very little fear that the average healthy human being will fail
to get an adequate amount and a proper and balanced proportion of the different kinds of food if he is given a

no poorer economy than trying to skimp on food.—Washington Post.

WHO'S WHO
in the Day's News

GEN. C. V. H. TOWNSEND.
Gen. Charles V. H. Townsend—"Townsend of Kut," as he was acclaimed in Paris and London, where he was present after four years' absence, more than two years of which was spent as a prisoner of the Turks—once more in reunited with his family in London, where he was many dark hours when it seemed that the man who was forced to surrender
his army of 9,000 British, after a siege of 143 days, on April 29, 1916
would never come back.

Townsend, who had the rank of major general at the time he went
with the British forces into the east,
was left to hold Kut-el-Amara, an important center of Moslem religion and culture.

This was when, following a defeat
by Turkish troops under Field Marshal von der Goltz, the British forces, under Sir John Nixon, fell back to their base, Basra, on the Persian Gulf.

England felt the blow because Nixon, before forced back, had penetrated within ten miles of Bagdad,
which was the objective, to be taken to prevent the German control of the road into the east, which threatened India.

But the sting of General Towns-

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE THINGS THAT ARE NOT SO.

I sometimes think we grown-ups
know
Too many things that are not so;
We spend our time, or so it seems,
Shattering the children's fondest
dreams,
And filling little eyes with mist
By proving fairies don't exist.

Perhaps we ought to teach the youth
To tread the rugged way of truth,
And make them think this world a place

Where everything is commonplace
And only that is true, which they Can see and touch from day to day.
And yet that robs each girl and boy
Of all imaginary joy,
Who follows strictly youth's stern
laws.

Deprives a child of Santa Claus
And takes from every rose bush fair
The fairies that are dwelling there.

When children ask if things are so,
It's seldom that I tell them, "No."
In fancy's fashion I contrive
To keep their fairy-folk alive.
Rather than end their dreams in grief,
I try to strengthen their belief.

I tell of fairies I have met
Dancing around the mignonette,
And as their eyes are open-
With wonderment, with tender pride
I scratch my dull, slow-witted head
Recalling what they did and said.

I think for such a golden lie
I'll be forgiven by and by.
Too soon these little eyes will weep
O'er broken dreams they cannot keep.
Too soon, I'm sure, they'll come to
know
How many cherished joys aren't so.

head's surrender, which only came
when his supplies were exhausted,
was taken away by his heroic defence, and by the subsequent success of the British in the east, where the complete collapse of the Turks was a stepping stone to a quick end of the war.

General Townsend for the most part was well treated by the Turks,
and at one time was allowed to visit
the American ambassador in Constantinople. For a time his place of captivity was Prinkipo, one of the Princes Islands, in the Sea of Marmara. He was removed, when the British again began to press the Turks hard, in 1917.

The extra eggs on one day alone
more than paid for the Don Sung used.
The extra eggs on all other days were clear profit. Mr. Taylor wrote this letter Feb. 11, 1918. Here is the same offer we made him:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that Don Sung pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply let us and your money will be refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves
the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't start your eggs, no matter
how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail.
Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents
to a package by mail, prepaid.

Charm and Distinction.
Though the Hopi Indians are rated
by Powell as of the same linguistic stock as the Shoshone, Ute and Comanche, it is known definitely that they are a composite people, with a language in which are found Tanoan, Piman and Keresan words. The Snake clan came from the North, possibly from the same stock as that which once peopled the great Mesa Verde rock houses. The Bear clan came from the eastward, undoubtedly of the people from which came the later-day
settlements of the upper Rio Grande valley in New Mexico. Most interesting from a local point of view is the determination that the Water House (Patki) and Squash (Patun) clans came from the southward, from "the cactus country."

On Floor of the Ocean.
It is believed that to an enormous extent the bed of the ocean is covered with lava and pumice stone. Still more remarkable is it to find the floor of the ocean covered in many parts with the dust of meteorites. These bodies whirl about in the heavens in miniature comets, and are for the most part broken into innumerable fragments.

H. STOCKMAN WANTS MAN TO RETURN WATCH

Hugh Stockman who was arrested several days ago for being intoxicated is hot on the trail of the big tall fellow who stole his watch. Stockman told the court when arraigned that he had his watch stolen while on his spree.

Not being satisfied with the results he went to a clairvoyant and was told that the watch was stolen by a tall fellow who was accompanied by a small man. This satisfied him but to be more sure of his grounds he went to a second future and past expert and was again told that the time piece was taken by a tall fellow with the same lines as Bud Fisher's "Mutt" and that he was in company with a fellow of the same proportion of little "Jeff".

Then Hugh started on his search and the morning started with a friend that he has located the watch and that the fellow who has it is anxious to return it but he is afraid that Hugh will have the man if he is not with the watch if returned to the police.

He further stated that he knew the party that had the watch, that he would have a warrant for the man if the watch was not returned within a few days.

JUDGE PLEADS WITH PRISONERS TO REFORM

Two expert machinists listened to one of the finest reform talks ever given in the municipal court by Judge Maxfield this morning. The talk was in the form of a plea by the judge to the men to reform and stay out of the courts and to do all in their power to lead better lives with the hopes of gaining their reward at death.

John Curry and Harvey Bundy were the men and both promised the judge that they would be better men when they were free again. They frankly admitted that they were on the wrong path and that they desired to live better lives if given the chance.

At the conclusion of the talk John Curry who has been in court before was fined $15 and costs of 20 days and Harvey Bundy, a Beloit, was assessed $10 and costs of 15 days.

125 RURAL TEACHERS AFFECTED BY WAGE LAW

Approximately 125 rural school teachers in Rock county will be given salary raises if the bill to make the minimum wage $7.50 per month instead of $4.00 is passed by the legislature. The senate by a vote of 18 to 5 sent the bill for engrossment yesterday.

Of the 150 one room rural school teachers in the county, only 25 receive $7.50 or over per month.

Salaries of teachers in the city, village, and larger rural schools are not affected by the proposed bill.

LOAD OF SHORTHORNS GOES TO CHIPPEWA

A carload consisting of 15 head of pure bred Shorthorns was shipped to Chippewa Falls, yesterday, through the Rock County Shorthorn association. This is the second lot of cattle to go to that vicinity from the local organization in a few days. A North Dakota party is here at present arranging for the purchase of some horns.

The animals which made up yesterday's shipment were from the herds of James Hadden & son, and J. J. Cann & sons.

Frank P. Starr left today for Rock Island to attend the annual meeting of the law committee of the Woodmen of America. Questions of great importance to the order will be considered by members of the committee who represent all parts of the country.

Mr. Starr has been a member of this committee for many years.

Rockford Business Men to Open Tire Store Here

A. M. Smelser and N. J. Tonkinson, both of Rockford, will open a retail auto tire store in the old Wilcox & Cramer store at 4 West Milwaukee street tomorrow. The new firm has been known as the Janesville Tire Co. Small shipments of tires have already been received and several more are in transit.

Fire Department Out This Morning

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning the fire department was called to the home of Fred Porter, 125 Randall avenue, where a chimney fire had gained considerable headway.

The department made a quick run to the residence and on their arrival soon had the flames under control with the aid of chemicals. The damage was nominal according to the report of Chief Murphy.

Ruth Jeffris Returns From War Work in East

Miss Ruth Jeffris, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Jeffris, returned home yesterday after seven months of war work in the east. She took up her work last July and has been engaged in it since that time. She was stationed in Washington, D. C., where she worked in the military department, later going to New York in civilian relief work.

ROTARY CLUB VOTES FOR PROBATION WORK

After listening to a talk by C. F. Hill, director of the vocational school, on the need for a probation officer, the Rotary club apportioned funds to be used in connection with the work of the delinquent children. Mr. Hill spoke to the club today at luncheon today. Mr. Hill is at present devoting a large part of his time to the problem of caring for delinquent children and is doing the work gratuitously because there is now no officer to properly handle the work.

The need for an officer of this kind is becoming more and more imperative," he said. "With the influx of newcomers, a number of children will need attention. The home environment of the child is not what it should be. Educational home life, proper nutrition, and other matters must receive attention lest some of these children get started on the wrong path."

Mr. Hill has taken the initiative in standing between the court and the child, when it would have meant the ruin of a girl or boy's reputation to have chances made a matter of court record.

W. C. Clark, sales manager of the Samson Tractor company, and W. C. Chupin, New York, of the Educational Foundation company, were guests of the club.

PRIVATE WALTER DULIN WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Private Walter Dulin of Co. D, 7th Infantry, son of Constable William Dulin of the 17th ward has returned to his home here after participating in several of the biggest battles of the war.

When war was first declared Private Dulin was not able to secure enlistment in the army. Later he was called with the selected men and left for camp with a smile, as it was his one desire to get in the army.

Private Dulin developed into an excellent soldier and it was only a short time later that he was transferred to a regular army unit that was soon to go overseas. In the regulars he soon became a model soldier, quick to learn and anxious to fight.

His regiment landed in France early in 1918 and he was soon in the front line. He was wounded while fighting and was sent to a hospital where he fought the nurses day and night trying to return to his company.

War and fighting was what sent Private Dulin to France and he didn't want to miss any of it. He recovered rapidly from the gas and was again returned to the front line. He was through some of the big battles of the war and was in the thick of the fight at all times.

Somewhat modest regarding his own exploits he is willing to let the deeds of the other fellows, but not of himself. Fighting with the regulars at Cantigny, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, and Meuse he came through without a scratch.

Then came the terrific battle of the Argonne forests, which was the bloodiest battle of the war. Private Dulin was in the fight of the first day and while busily engaged in driving the Germans toward the Rhine he was wounded with a machine gun bullet.

The bullet entered his chest just below his left eye and came out of his neck. He was removed to a hospital and then the armistice was signed and Private Dulin lost all chances of again battling the Boches.

LOCAL MUSIC MASTERS HOLD STAG MEETING

Music reigned supreme last evening at the party given by the Janesville musicians at their club on East Milwaukee street. It was the first get together party held by the men since they moved into their new quarters and the local musicians were nearly all present.

Prior to the good time the regular meeting was held at which time plans for the dancing party to be given on February 27, were discussed. It was decided to have the party at the three local orchestras play for the dance.

After the meeting the good time started and until a late hour the latest music could be heard and the people in the vicinity of the club rooms had a hard time to keep their feet still. A delightful lunch was served during the evening.

D. A. R. RAISES $100 FOR REBUILDING CITY

Members of the local chapter of the D. A. R. have raised $100 for the relief and rebuilding of Tilloy, a small French city devastated during the war. The announcement was made at the regular monthly meeting of the chapter at the home of Mrs. F. R. Linde, 704 Milwaukee avenue yesterday afternoon.

Sergeant Gilbert Ryan and Arthur Moore, two local men who returned recently after several months of fighting in France, gave thrilling accounts of the work against the Germans and cited several of their personal experiences.

Bob Hockett having sold his tobacco for 37 cents a pound has decided to take a vacation. He is spending a few days in Rockford, visiting friends.

Blmer Dreyer of Milwaukee and a former resident of this city asserted yesterday that he was strong for the future of Janesville and he was sure the place would grow. Blmer is back in town. Maybe that is the reason it is going to grow.

Having a few spare minutes the council decided to pass an ordinance fixing the salary of the probation officer to $100 a year. They haven't anything to do with the officer. Why not give that $100 a year to the street car company.

Get a lady police officer in Janesville and the city would have to watch her young fellows. Girls are becoming a luxury in Janesville and fellows are becoming a necessity. It is hard to remark that the returning soldiers were getting all the fair daisies.

While exploring in the wilds of Forest Park recently, Ed. Ehringer found a bottle of whiskey hidden in a hole. At least that's where he said he procured it.

K. I. A. CLUB WILL GIVE ANNUAL PARTY

Invitations were issued today for the annual dancing party to be given by the members of the K. I. A. club at the Apollo hall on Monday evening, February 17.

For the past four years the popular young ladies' club has been giving an annual dancing party and the affair is anxiously looked forward to by the young people of Janesville.

A feature of the party this season will be music. The young ladies have arranged for the Camp Grant Base hospital orchestra to play. The orchestra is well known and has proven to be exceedingly popular for dances.

The committee in charge of the dance is composed of Misses Lydia McKibbin, Leah Groat, Beatrice Kelly, Margaret Gray and Mrs. George McLaughlin.

KLASSEN STORE IS ENTIRELY REMODELED

The Klassen store, damaged at the time of the Rohberg fire, has been practically made into a new business place.

All the fixtures are shiny white, a new ceiling, new wall decorations, new rugs, and wall cases have been added. New models and new fixtures have been added to the windows which show off the merchandise to much better advantage.

The Klassen store was established in Janesville about seven years ago and is a credit business in men's, women's and children's apparel. The main floor is given over to the display of men's and women's clothing.

Children's department is located on a balcony to the rear of the store. For several years Max Shapiro has been manager of the store.

PRIVATE JIMMIE QUINN RETURNS FROM FRANCE

Private James Quinn the first Janesville boy of Co. D 333rd Machine Gun Battalion of the Blackhawk division arrived home today after receiving his discharge at Camp Grant. Private Quinn left this city on September 19, 1917, with the second draft contingent. Upon his arrival at Camp Grant he was assigned to Co. C 331st Machine Gun Battalion.

Later Private Quinn with the other Janesville boys was transferred to Co. D, 333rd Machine Gun Battalion, commanded by Major Frederick McLaughlin, the Chicago millionaire. Private Quinn went overseas with the 56th division and landed in France shortly before the armistice was signed. He arrived in this country about ten days ago and this morning was honorably discharged after nearly eighteen months service.

Railroad News

Conductor Sidney Northrup has again returned to work after a short illness. He has charge of one of the trains between Brodhead and New Glarus.

All passenger trains on the Chicago and Northwestern road will change their time in a few weeks. A meeting is to be held in Chicago sometime during the next few days with a view of improving the service of the road.

Conductor John Jarvis is taking a few days vacation after working on the midnight run between Janesville and Milton.

BIG BANQUET FOR BOYS AND FATHERS TONIGHT

The big banquet which really opens "Father and Son week" in this city will be held this evening at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:15 p. m. Over 100 boys and their fathers are expected to attend.

David T. Vaughan, well known Chicago speaker, will make the principal address. Mr. Vaughan received national-wide publicity several months ago from his lectures and speeches on immigration and problems of the poorer classes. He will speak on "Dad and His Dad."

Tomorrow will be reflection day. Fathers are urged by the committee to use a few minutes of their time thinking over their duties to their sons, trying to discover their failures, and resolving to make amends for neglect due to carelessness.

On Friday there will be a conference of fathers on boy life. The relations of the father to the son will be discussed.

A hike is the plan of the committee for Saturday afternoon. The walk will be at the Y. M. C. A., where refreshments will be served. Service in the churches Sunday will complete the week.

FARM TRUCK WILL BE MADE AT G. M. C. PLANT

Besides three models of tractors, the Samson Tractor company will assemble a light farm truck. It was announced today. The truck will have three-fourths of a ton capacity and will be complete with electric light and starter.

The reason for assembling a machine of this kind here is the need of farmers for a light truck with which to haul produce to market. The field for such trucks is expected to be much the same.

The Samson farm truck will not be assembled in the structure now being completed, known as unit No. 1. It will, however, be made in one of the three buildings first to be erected, so the first machine will probably be on the market this year.

BOYS' FARM RESERVE REPORTS NOT YET IN

Due to delay on the part of the state headquarters of the Boys' Working reserve at Madison, literature to the schools of the county is being sent direct, instead of through Principal George A. Bassford of the high school, in charge of county enrollment.

Farmers' lessons and pamphlets urging enrollment have already gone out. Enrollment will start immediately. Mr. Bassford expects reports in a few days from many of the schools showing the total number of boys who will take up the work.

The work in the local high school, in charge of A. B. West, will also start soon. Mr. West has prepared several special courses which he will add to the agricultural department in order to give the boys special intensified training.

TESTIMONY IN REED CASE IS CONTINUED

Further testimony in the case of the guardianship of Maurice Reed will be taken in county court before Judge Eklund, Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Considerable time was used yesterday afternoon by attorneys for the petitioner, Mr. Reed's children, to show that he had allowed his farm, located one mile south of the institute for the blind, to run to ruin. Michael Murphy, Frank Taylor, and other men living near the Reed farm testified that the thriving crop of weeds was grown there for two summers.

Charles Pierce and M. C. Burnes, petitioners' attorneys, seek to prove Mr. Reed incompetent and therefore a guardian should be appointed. John L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty are representing Mr. Reed.

Miss Nellie Smiley of Linn street entertained her mother from Albany today.

ONCE FAMOUS AS ACTRESS AND HOSTESS MAY YOHE IS HAPPY AS SCRUB WOMAN

May Yohe.

May Yohe, the pretty American dancer who startled the world by marrying Lord Francis Hope, of one of England's proudest families, and whose career has been a long and brilliant one, filled with romance and adventure, has once more made the world gasp. The reason the world is gasping now is because this once famous actress is doing something so very unimportant. She is scrubbing floors in the offices of the Seattle North Pacific Shipbuilding Company for twelve dollars a week, and claims she is happier than she ever thought she could be.

CRIPPLES TRAINED IN AUTO MECHANICS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Washington, Feb. 12.—One of the most popular occupations for which disabled soldiers are being trained by the federal board for vocational education is that of auto mechanics, and those who take and finish the course have no difficulty in finding steady employment at remunerative wages. There are many opportunities in the motor industry; the calls for competent men greatly exceed the supply, and probably will continue to exceed the number of available men for some years at least.

Another specialized branch of this training is that of the operation, care and repair of farm tractors and farm machinery generally. This is affording many who have been raised on farms a chance to become specialists in a line which is steadily growing. Tractor operators are in great demand, especially in the large prairie wheat farms of the northwest.

The federal board for vocational education at Washington is anxious to correspond with any disabled soldiers or sailors or members of the families of such men. Even if he has gone out in civil life and attempted to make his living without special training, and made his handicaps too much for him, he is still entitled to this special training by the government, absolutely free and is given a support fund of $100 per month while he is in training. The practical certainty of a position being ready for him when he has finished his course.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Feb. 12.—The Edgerton Barn Equipment company held their annual meeting last evening at their offices at the factory. The report of the secretary showed a great advancement was made during the past year. The company has their factory fully equipped and will be able to meet any and all demands that may be made during the coming year. The following officers were elected: H. H. Brown, president; D. D. Brown, vice president; C. W. Gifford, secretary and general manager; J. C. Gifford, treasurer. The directors elected are: H. H. Brown, J. C. Gifford, Frank Brown, E. L. Cleary, T. A. Ellingson and George Schmecker. Mr. Schmecker will also have charge of the sales department. Mayor Lewis is giving his attention to a communication from the second division of the freshman high school class. The communication asks that better drinking fountains be maintained. Mayor Lewis states that the matter will be attended to at once.

The large service flag donated by the women of Edgerton last Sunday, Feb. 10, is being shipped to the front. A program has been arranged and tribute will be paid those who made the sacrifice. The services will be conducted under the auspices of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief corps. Fifteen cars of bundle tobacco arrived today from the north and will be packed in the city. This is the largest shipment of tobacco this year. The shipment belongs to several different packers. There seems to be a shortage of help in the warehouses and unless more help is secured the packing season will continue until late in the spring.

John Thompson shipped a car of fat stock today to the Chicago market and Conway and Newton shipped two cars of cattle and one car of hogs. The Highway Trailer company have placed an order for 15 cars to be used in shipping a consignment of trailers to the government. Should the consignment will be the largest ever made by the local concern.

August Ratzlaff transacted business at Madison today.

Herman Kravick is confined to his home with an attack of pneumonia.

The women of the W. C. T. U. netted $65 last evening at their chicken pie supper held at the Methodist church.

DEALERS MUST TAKE COMPLETE INVENTORY

All local dealers in cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, as well as those in distilled spirits or wines, will be required to take a complete inventory of their stock on the morning that the new revenue law goes into effect. Increased taxes on these commodities will make it necessary for every dealer to file a sworn return with the collector of internal revenue, showing the size of his stock.

Inventory forms will be mailed to the dealers in a few days, for the new law is expected to receive the president's signature within two weeks. Dealers will be responsible themselves for knowledge of the law's passage, and must watch the newspapers for it. Burt Williams, collector of internal revenue, stated today that the law provides severe penalties for those who fail to make proper inventory and return.

She was about 42 years of age, and leaves a husband and five children, two girls and three boys. Funeral services were held Monday at the Lutheran church. Interment was at Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Maxwell and family are enjoying an extended visit. Her mother, Mrs. W. E. Quincey, Ill.

Mrs. E. M. Johnson has returned to Whitewater and is a guest at the Hotel Walworth.

Albert Klein shipped over 500 snapping turtles to Philadelphia last week.

Robert Chamberlain has returned from Chicago, Ill., where he has been working the past year, and spent a few days with Whitewater friends the first of the week. He is now with his parents in Ft. Atkinson.

High School News

Capt. Gerald McDermott, commander of the high school cadets, has arranged extensive plans for the enlarged organization of the company within the next few weeks. The total enrollment of the company is listed at 77, but for the past few months the attendance has dwindled down to 25. 100 wood-his drilled at present in the armory, so that 75 more boys could be accommodated. Captain McDermott yesterday announced that in his plans for the future he would strive to obtain members from the older class men, so that a more cooperative spirit will be shown. Within the next few days a meeting will be called by the company to discuss the plans for the future. The company will be divided into junior and senior classes, at which it is hoped that a large percentage of the school's older boys will enroll. Added social attractions, such as athletic will be given. In other cities of the country, where high school cadets have been organized, the company is still drilling, reaching a point of merit. It is hoped that by the end of this month the cadet's enrollment will number 60.

Goldwyn Loveland, former high school boy, a few days ago fell and broke his arm. Loveland, while running across the street a few months ago was hit by an auto and his right arm broken, so that the breaking of the arm while he had only lately healed was a painful one.

The Freshmen-Sophomore Girls' glee club met yesterday for their usual practice. Mrs. Dr. Thomas who is directing the work of the glee club and the orchestra is planning on having the clubs sing before the school assembly within the near future.

The high school faculty met last evening and was given an extensive talk by Mr. Bassford. Plans for the rearranging of several classes which are too large were made and other matters cleared up.

Evansville, Feb. 12.—Notices have been sent throughout the city warning all owners of dogs that they must be muzzled and kept on the premises until further notice. All dogs found at large, muzzled or unmuzzled on the streets of Evansville will be shot. In an interview with Chief of Police Fred W. Gillman this morning, he said, "This order is drastic and the needs for it is more so, and must be obeyed, for public safety is at stake. The life of a child is worth more than all dogs in creation. What the order says will be done—that is, the order says that if their premises will be destroyed. There is evidence of so much trouble among dogs in this vicinity that this order, by the health officer, F. E. Colony, is imperative and goes into force at once. All dogs owners are asked to cooperate with the officials in stamping out this evil."

His Love Story

By
MARIE VAN VORST

CHAPTER I.

A Serious Event.
Le Comte de Sabron, in the undress uniform of captain in the Cavalry, sat smoking and thinking. What is the use of being thirty years old with the brevet of captain and much distinction of family if you are a poor man—in short, what is the good of anything if you are alone in the world and no one cares what becomes of you?

He rang his bell, and when his ordonnance appeared, said sharply: "Que diable is the noise in the stable, Brunet? Don't you know that when I smoke at this hour all Tarascon must be kept utterly silent?"

Tarascon is never silent. No French meridional town is, especially in the warm sunlight of a glorious May day. "The noise, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "is rather melancholy."

"Melancholy?" exclaimed the young officer. "It's infernal. Stop it at once."

The ordonnance held his kept in his hand. He had a round good-natured face and kind gray eyes that were used to twinkle at his master's humor and caprices.

"I beg pardon, mon Capitaine, but a very serious event is taking place."

"It will be more serious yet, Brunet, if you don't keep things quiet."

"I am sorry to tell, mon Capitaine, that Michette has just died."

"Michette?" exclaimed the master. "What relation is she of yours, Brunet?"

"Ah, mon Capitaine," grinned the ordonnance, "relation! None! It is the little terrier that Monsieur le Capitaine may have remarked now and then in the garden."

Sabron nodded and took his cigarette out of his mouth as though in respect for the deceased.

"Ah, yes," he said, "that melancholy little dog! Well, Brunet!"

"She has just breathed her last, mon Capitaine, and she is leaving behind her rather a large family."

"I am not surprised," said the officer. "There are six," vouchsafed Brunet, "of which, if mon Capitaine is willing, I should like to keep one."

"Nonsense," said Sabron, "on no account. You know perfectly well, Brunet, that I don't surround myself with things that can make me suffer."

"A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights."

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a dark brown taste, a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply complexion.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

have not kept a dog in ten years. I try not to care about my horses even. Everything to which I attach myself dies or causes me regret and pain. And I won't have any miserable little puppy to complicate existence."

"Bien, mon Capitaine," accepted the ordonnance tranquilly. "I have given away five. The sixth is in the stable; if Monsieur le Capitaine would come down and look at it."

Sabron rose, threw his cigarette away and, following across the garden

Sabron Looked at the Letter.

in the bland May light, went into the stable where Madame Michette, a small wire-haired Irish terrier had given birth to a fine family and herself gone the way of those who do their duty to a race. In the straw at his feet Sabron saw a radicle, unpossessing little object, crawling about feebly in search of warmth and nourishment, uttering pitiful little cries. Its extreme loneliness and helplessness touched the big soldier, who said curiously to his man:

"Wrap it up, and if you don't know how to feed it I should not be surprised if I could induce it to take a little warm milk from a quill. At all events we shall have a try with it. Fetch it along to my rooms."

And as he retraced his steps, leaving his order to be executed, he thought to himself: The little beggar is not much more alone in the world than I am! As he said that he recalled a word in the meridional patois: Pitichoune, which means "poor little thing."

"I shall call it Pitichoune," he thought, "and we shall see if it can't do better than its name suggests."

He went slowly back to his rooms and busied himself at his table with his correspondence. Among the letters was an invitation from the Marquis d'Esclignac, an American married to a Frenchman, and the great lady of the country thereabouts.

"Will you not," she wrote, "come to dine with us on Sunday? I have my niece with me. She would be glad to see a French soldier. She has expressed such a wish. She comes from a country where soldiers are rare. We dine at eight."

Sabron looked at the letter and its fine clear handwriting. Its wording was less formal than a French invitation is likely to be, and it gave him a sense of cordiality. He had seen, during his rides, the beautiful lines of the Chateau d'Esclignac. Its turrets surely looked upon the Rhone. There would be a divine view from the terraces. It would be a pleasure to go there. He thought more of what the place would be than of the people in it, for he was something of a hermit, rather a recluse, and very reserved.

He was writing a line of acceptance when Brunet came in, a tiny bundle in his hand.

"Put Pitichoune over there in the sunlight," ordered the officer, "and we shall see if we can bring him up by hand."

CHAPTER II.

Julia Redmond.

He remembered all his life the first dinner at the Chateau d'Esclignac, where from the terrace he saw the Rhone lying under the early moonlight and the shadows falling around the castle of good King Rene.

As he passed in, his sword clanking—for he went in full dress uniform—to dine with the Marquis d'Esclignac, he saw the picture the two ladies made in their drawing-room: the marquis in a very splendid dress (which he never could remember) and her niece, a young lady from a country whose name it took him long to learn to pronounce, in a dress so simple that of course he never could forget it! He remembered for a great many years the fall of the ribbon at her pretty waist, the bunch of sweet peas at her girdle, and he always remembered the face that made the charm of the picture.

Their welcome to him was gracious. The American girl spoke French with an accent that Sabron thought bewilderingly charming, and he put aside some of his reserve and laughed and talked at his ease. After dinner (this he remembered with peculiar distinctness) Miss Redmond sang for him, and although he understood none of the words of the English ballad, he learned the melody by heart and it followed with him when he left. It went with him as he crossed the terrace into the moonlight to mount his horse; it went home with him; he hummed it, and when he got up to his room he hummed it again as he bent over the little roll of fannel in the corner and fed the puppy not milk from a quill.

This was painstaking operation and required patience and delicacy, both of which the big man had at his finger-tips. The tune of Miss Redmond's song did for a lullaby and the puppy fell comfortably to sleep while Sabron kept the picture of his evening's outing contentedly in his mind. But later he discovered that he was not so contented, and counted the hours when he might return.

He shortly made a call at the Chateau d'Esclignac with the result that he had a new picture to add to his collection. This time it was the picture of a lady alone; the Marquis d'Esclignac doing tapestry. While Sabron found that he had grown reticent again, he listened for another step and another voice and heard nothing; but before he took leave there was a hint of a second invitation to dinner.

TIPPECANOE

By SAMUEL MCCOY
Illustrations by De Alton Valentine.

Copyright, 1916, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.
"Not one of your men and women but despises a man who gives up in the midst of a fight. This feeling is a part of your very blood, for you have been brought up in the midst of dangers such as no other generation of men has known. It is upon resistance up to the last notch that your lives themselves depend. That man among you who surrenders imperils the lives of all of you. There is not one of you whose resistance has not been tried and tried sorely by the almost insufferable burdens of this new land. A hundred times you have said, 'Why did I not remain in the land which my fathers have made safe and pleasant for me?' And a hundred times you have fought off that feeling of discouragement."

"You are about to be put to a test more severe than any you have yet undergone. You have won the fight at Tippecanoe; but do not be mistaken: all the pitiless warriors of the forest will gather again and crush you out entirely if they can; and behind them is the power of that nation across the seas, whose tyranny our fathers have overthrown at such tremendous cost."

"And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple."

"The words are those of the greatest fighter of all. They are the words of a man who, without a single follower, proclaimed his convictions before the most hostile and unfriendly of all generations. The whole crushing weight of its hate fell upon him, but he clung to those beliefs to the very last—gave up his life, rather than give them up. He, of all men, knew what it meant to cling to a purpose in the face of tremendous difficulties. Yet he says that whoever cannot equally endure the burdens of the march through life is not fit to be a man."

"Thirty-two years ago a little band of men—settlers like you, and not so many as are now before me—followed George Rogers Clark through unimaginable hardships across the wintry prairies from Kaskaskia to Vincennes. Last week I passed by the crumbling timbers of the old fort and found their bullets sunken in the logs inside the embrasures. Some of you men in this audience were with him in that terrible march and daring assault. It is useless to say that we will never forget what you have done for us. General Clark is now a penniless and palsied cripple in his sister's home. Do not expect that a republic which has no rewards for the leader will be less forgetful of the man in the ranks."

"You have not entered on this deathless heroic struggle with the wilderness with the expectation of material reward alone; you have come here from the old quiet places in Virginia, in Massachusetts, in Connecticut, in Pennsylvania and New Jersey because you have the fighting spirit in you; and you stay here because the fighting spirit stays in you."

"For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?"

"I tell you, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him."

"Saying, 'This man began to build, and was not able to finish.'"

"The tower that you have begun to build is an invisible tower; a new and mighty nation. Today you sit down to count the cost of the building, to see whether you have sufficient with which to finish the vast edifice. What is the cost? The world watches you, and not only its generations of today but those unborn generations who will weigh your work to see whether it was good or bad. I know that you have counted the cost and are willing, ready to pay it: a treasure of sacrifice, a treasure of blood and wounds and dreadful agonies and bitter tears. But you will pay it. You will pay it to the uttermost, holding yourselves to the grim account with iron wills, forcing yourselves on with unconquerable resolve."

"Not of you shall it ever be said: 'After he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him.'"

"Saying, 'This man began to build, and was not able to finish.'"

"For the tower which you build is not built with hands, but with souls. So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple."

"Salt is good; but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be seasoned?"

"All of you know how hard it is to get salt in this new country—how we have to haul bushels of salty earth from the spots where the red deer of the forest have discovered, the 'deer licks.' You put this salty earth in an ash hopper, pour water over it and catch the water in a trough after it has leaked through the dirt. And then you boil the salty water down till there is left a little of the precious mineral with which we can preserve our meats. You all know how laborious and tiresome a process it is, and how much the salt means to the settler. How the cattle moo for a taste of it! What would our children do without milk?"

"We can all understand this manner of speaking: 'Salt is good; but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be seasoned?'"

"That great soldier, Christ, means to say that he looks to his followers not only to begin great tasks, but to continue in them; for there are no greater soldiers than the soldiers who fight in a good cause. The man who stops midway in his fight is like salt that loses its essential quality. There is no longer any reason for its existence. Better not be at all, than to cease from being strong. For then who is left to give new strength to the salt? There is no one for you to fall back on—you have chosen a certain work in life and you must stick it out to the end."

"I want you to remember this through all the great struggles which are left before you. Today we are waiting, and waiting for the appearance of a terrible foe. They may come to raise the war-whoop or they may come in peace. But however they may come they will find us ready, like the wise king who hath consulted and found himself ready to meet the force that cometh against him. For you have learned to fight the greater struggles of the spirit. You have learned to be cool, temperate and steady, first of all; and having learned these virtues of manliness and pluck and mastery over self, you will add to them the supreme virtue of tenacity: to keep, to hold, to grip as in a vise the purpose to which you have consecrated yourselves."

"And then, some day, the tower of this new and beautiful nation will stand as a dream made visible. The foundations Washington laid, and Clark and Harrison have added to; the great timbers of the walls which you are raising will be strengthened by mighty girders which your sons will weave into place and fasten together like a welded yoke; and their sons will rear the roof above, and still another generation will make it a house shutting out the four winds of the earth; and your grandsons' sons will make it beautiful within. We shall not see that day nor reap any of its rewards; but of us shall the unseen cornerstones be made. Today is the glory of victory; tomorrow begins the clamor of toil. 'Where is the house that ye build unto me? Where is the place of my rest?'"

You Can't Cure Rheumatism With Liniments and Lotions

Torturing Pains Promptly Return in All Their Intensity

You may as well throw your liniments to the winds, if you expect them to rid you of the pangs of rheumatism. In fact, the sooner you discard forever the use of all forms of local treatment, the sooner you will get on the right track which leads to rational means of relief.

For you can rub and rub from now until doomsday, and you will never make any progress toward ridding yourself of rheumatism, because such treatment does not approach the source of the disease.

Remember from the outset that the pangs of rheumatism come from a deep-seated cause, and that simply rubbing the painful parts of the body has no effect on the disease itself. But when you locate the cause of the disease, the real source of all these intense pains, you can then treat the disease intelligently.

And until you do treat your rheumatism intelligently, you will never be free from its disabling pains. So many people have found real, genuine and lasting relief from rheumatism by purifying the blood with S. S. S. that we are justified in recommending this splendid remedy to all who are afflicted. Perhaps your case is like thousands of others which are caused by millions of tiny disease germs in the blood. S. S. S. so thoroughly cleanses the blood, that it routs out completely and eliminates all disease germs that infect it.

In this way the source of the disease is reached, and its cause removed. Give your system a thorough cleansing with this reliable vegetable blood remedy, and you will be delighted to be freed of the pangs of rheumatism. It has been used for more than fifty years and is sold at all drug stores. Begin its use today and you will have the same satisfactory experience as thousands of other sufferers.

Should you wish special advice about your own case, it can be had without cost by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 101 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

(BY J. H. WATSON, M. D.) Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

As a remedy for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation caused by uric acid—as scalding urine, backache, and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gout, it is simply wonderful how quickly An-uric acts; the pains and stiffness rapidly disappear, for Anuric (double strength), is many times more potent than lithia and often eliminates uric acid as hot tea melts sugar.

Anuric is a recent scientific discovery by Doctor Pierce, Chief of Staff at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y. Send ten cents there for a trial package of Anuric.

It FILLS THE BILL—A dose of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Sick or Bilious Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and many derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

But not in the way the huge, old-fashioned pill tries to do it. These little Pellets have better methods. They cleanse and regulate the whole system naturally. In other words, they do it thoroughly, but mildly and gently. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They're the smallest in size, but the most effective in result—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. Only one little sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GIVEN IMPORTANT RAILROAD POSITION

Thomas Carr Powell, vice president of the Southern railway for many years, was recently appointed director of the division of capital expenditures of the U. S. railroad administration. He succeeded Judge Robert S. Lovett, who had been serving the government almost from the time the U. S. entered the war, chiefly as an assistant to Judge Lovett on the priorities committee.

SPORTS

CARDINALS TO MEET ROCKFORD TONIGHT

With the same team with the exception of Murphy, which returned Elgin two weeks ago, the Cardinals are set for their contest with the Sunstrand quintet at Rockford this evening. Captain Hemming stated this morning that the Cardinals were determined to win every game from now on until their schedule is completed.

"Peewee" Benway, the diminutive forward of the Olympic club and former star of Washington university, who with Casserly, defeated the Cardinals last week, will be in a Card uniform this evening. Benway's presence should be felt in the local lineup.

"Soup" Murphy, the idol of Janesville fans, and always in the games at all times will be missing from the line up tonight. Murphy is being initiated in the Elgin Elks this evening and asked to be excused.

Casserly who found a home in the hearts of the local fans by his playing both with and against the Cardinals will be again on hand and it is certain that he will display the same brand of ball that he has been playing all season.

"Vic" Hemming will be back at center and if he can play the same kind of ball that he played during the last half last week he will be a hard man to hold this evening. Hemming is a great basketball player and when forced to extend himself can display some clever work. The fans are anxious to watch Hemming, but he is prone to work hard unless forced to. Vic will enter the game this evening as captain of the Cardinals and it is his desire to demonstrate to the fans that the team is worthy of backing and that Janesville has a team of which they can be justly proud.

Phillips and Peterson of Beloit will be back and both of the men have played sterling ball with the Cardinals this season. Phillips' game against Elgin was remarkable and the fans are anxious for him to be in the game at all times.

Fully determined to secure a team that will defeat the Detroit Y. M. C. A. Captain Hemming is anxious to keep the same players together and the only change in the lineup for the Detroit game will be Hemming at center.

Coming to this city with a record of no defeats this season, the Sunstrand five, leaders of the Rockford city league, are anxious to maintain their excellent record and are adverse to losing a game to the Cardinals.

The Rockford team boasts of victories over some of the strongest teams in the middle west and the game this evening should be just as interesting as the games of the past three weeks. The Cardinal lineup will be composed of Casserly, Hemming, Peterson, Benway, Casserly and Phillips.

LEONARD MAY TOUR WORLD FOR TWO YEARS

Benny Leonard, light heavyweight champion, and Elionsky, champion swimmer, snapped during a dip in the ocean.

A story that comes from San Francisco has it that Benny Leonard, the light heavyweight champion of the world, will not engage in any championship, decision or no decision bouts in the United States for two years to come. Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager, and Lieut. Sydney Cohen of New York announced recently in the city by the Golden Gate that a contract had been entered into whereby Leonard was to tour Australia, India, China, France and England, over a period of fifteen months, for a guarantee of $104,000, with the privilege of a percentage. The tour, according to the story, is to start from San Francisco next September, and will conclude with the champion's arrival in New York.

KOPF WILL BOOST DODGERS' CHANCES

The recent deal which sent Shortstop Kopf and outfielder Griffith to the Brooklyn Dodgers from the Reds in exchange for Jake Daubert is expected to strengthen the eastern club greatly. He is expected to fill a hole which has existed at short for several seasons.

Sometimes They're Same Boy. Every town has two boys who are envied by all the other boys. One of them can chew tobacco in the presence of his dad. And by looking at the other one any morning during the barefoot season, you can tell that he wasn't made to wash his feet before going to bed the night before—Kansas City Star.

Early Indians Raised Corn. The white man found corn in use by the Indians in Virginia. In most other countries it is known as maize, and in English texts it is referred to as Indian corn. When the snow is on the Illinois corn fields, the Argentine corn fields are ripening. The largest producing areas are in the United States, Mexico, Austria-Hungary and Italy.

Sea Caterpillars. The caterpillars you war against when whitewashing your fruit trees are not the only caterpillars. Caterpillars populate the ocean in billions, and grow into crabs if the Greenland whale does not eat them first.

They are minute little things, about the size of salt grains. As children roll before they walk, so crab-caterpillars begin by literally looping the loop from one spot to another.

Greenland whales like them on account of their diminutive size. Having no teeth and very small throats, the whales find them the most convenient form of diet. They with their mouth open, squirt out the water, and then swallow.

Around the State

Escapes Hold-Up.
Marquette—Corp. Herman Klein, Blackhawk division, just home from overseas, was the intended victim of a hold-up man here Monday night. The fellow stepped out from an alley on Hall avenue and ordered him to hold up his hands. The corporal reached the highwayman's jaw with his right and the latter fell over on his back. Klein, escaped with $200 on his person.

Sergeant Lindsay Home.
Marquette—Sergeant Lindsay, son of Register of Deeds Lindsay, returned home Monday night from overseas. He participated in the battles of the Marne and Argonne forest.

Fishermen Want Ice.
Marquette—Hundreds of fishing shanties will dot Green Bay a few miles north and south of here before the end of the week if the thermometer continues to hover round the zero mark. Green Bay is now frozen way across to the east shore but the ice is only four or five inches thick and there are many, although the first crossing from Green island to Marquette was made Saturday. The fishermen are usually out on the ice before the middle of January and have been losing about $1,000 a day. Conditions as the bay was entirely open until Saturday.

No More Searches.
Marquette—There will be no more searching of suit cases on passenger trains crossing Wisconsin borders after March 1, according to a statement of the constabulary operating in this district have received orders not to permit members of the state constabulary to invade their trains and search the baggage of passengers. It is said, if the constables insist upon it, the train hands are to take action that will lead to their arrest. It is the contention that the constables have no legal right to search baggage without a warrant.

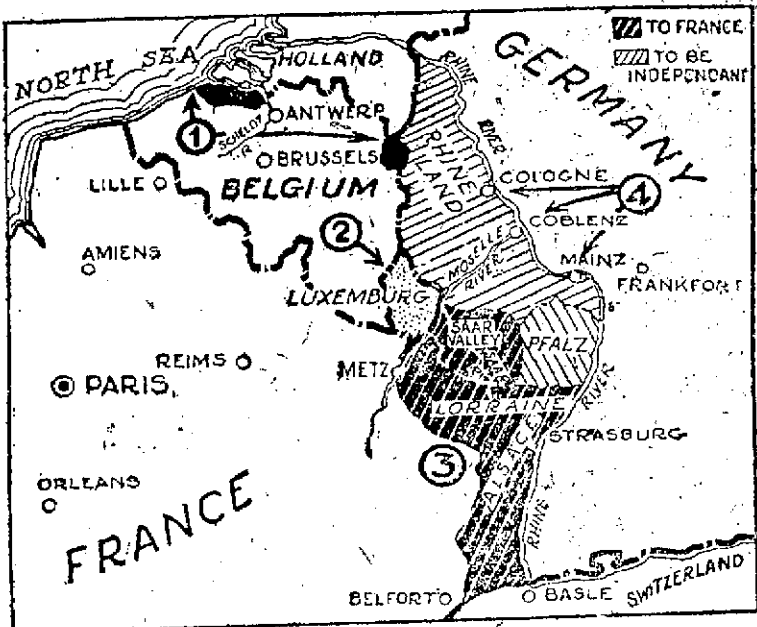

Very Much Alive.
Manitowoc, Feb. 12.—Corp. George Bouril, who has twice been reported dead in the casualty lists and once reported to have had both legs shot away, has arrived home and while not fully recovered from wounds received at Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne forest, is very much alive. Bouril was a member of Co. H, 127 Infantry, 32nd division, and says that the H men will fight back in pairs and groups from now on as not very many of them finished in the line with their command, most of them having been wounded or disabled in action.

Rescued from Fire.
La Crosse, Feb. 12.—Firemen carried Mrs. L. H. White and daughter, Edna, and her 94 year old father, out of their burning home. The first two were ill. The roof and the second story of the home were burned.

Leaves $10,000.
La Crosse, Feb. 12.—Harry Colman, of the C. L. Colman Lumber Company, who died last week, left an estate of $10,000, according to his will offered for probate here on Monday. It is divided among his children.

Overseas Men Meet.
Manitowoc, Feb. 12.—The depot here was the scene of an odd reunion Monday evening when three members of the 4th division, U. S. Regular army which had been serving in France, met at the train. The men who had been in France, were unaware of each others presence in the states. Jos. Kuserman arrived in the United States on the U. S. S. Windsor. He carries a wound strip which he earned at Chateau Thierry. Corp. A. Stephanik, two rivers, came back on the S. S.

PEACE CLAIMS OF FRANCE AND BELGIUM

1—Belgium wants from Holland the west bank of the Scheldt river and that part of Holland, including Maastricht, which extends into Belgium.
2—Belgium wants a plenipotentiary in Luxembourg to decide what the people of that duchy desire.
3—France wants full possession of Alsace-Lorraine and the Sarre river valley.
4—All the remainder of the territory west of the Rhine will be independent or buffer states. Among the German forts which must be dismantled are Cologne, Coblenz and Mainz. Switzerland wants the Rhine internationalized.

Canada and wears two wound stripes, one earned at Chateau Thierry and the other on the Argonne forest drive. Priv. Jos. Navok, Sheboygan, was in on both those drives and arrived home recently.

Loos Re-elected.
Appleton, Feb. 12.—George Loos was re-elected president of the Fox River Valley Poultry and Pet Stock association at its annual meeting. George Lausmann was elected vice-president. John Goodland, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

Dies at 113.
Revere, Feb. 12.—Wa Ba Ko Sid, Wisconsin's oldest Indian woman, died here at 113. For many years she suffered the infirmities of old age, being unable to walk and partially blind and deaf, but retained her mental faculties. She lived for the past twenty years with her grandson, a man now past 70. She is survived by many relatives, including a number of great-grandchildren.

Use English Language.
Westfield, Feb. 12.—The Springfield German Lutheran church changed, Sunday, Feb. 9, to have services in the English language. When this matter was taken up by the congregation they voted to have part of their services in English, but have several German services for those older people who cannot readily understand English.

Heiresses, But Don't Know It.
Port Washington, Feb. 12.—A fortune awaits Bertha and Frieda Steinhilber, but efforts of Ozaukee county judge J. E. Uselding, to find these sisters thus far have failed. They left here years ago with their father, John Steinhilber, supposedly going to live in Kenosha.

Trout Dine On Watches And Jack Knives; Are Great Commercial Fish Of Lakes

BY JAMES NEVIN
Division of Fisheries, Wisconsin Conservation Commission.

"Lake trout is one of the great commercial fish of the great lakes. It is one of the fishes that the commission is propagating quite extensively to keep the waters stocked," says James Nevin, of the division of fisheries.

"The lake trout are cannibals and have the habit of devouring great numbers of the other varieties of fish. Large eels of corn, silver watches and jackknives have been found in the stomachs of lake trout. Some trout grow to a great size. Some have been taken in former years that weighed 75 or 80 pounds. The largest one that I ever saw weighed 52 pounds and in this fish was found a very large ear of corn.

"In this state during the year 1917 the fishermen reported 4,280,119 pounds of this fish within the state and sold for some $16,892.20. Most of these fish were caught with gill nets from tugs set in from 40 to 60 and 100 fathoms of water. The fishermen from Milwaukee, Port Washington and Sheboygan have the largest and most expensive outfit for catching fish out of any part along the lake. White trout are caught from waters all along the coast line. At certain seasons of the year they have their haunts when they come out of sight and reach of the fisherman's nets. Of late years a great many fishermen have been making use of hooks with bait called bluplers. They set many miles of set lines with a short line attached to the end of each hook and baited and made fast some two feet apart. Some fishermen make use of many thousands of hooks in their business. If the gill nets have only been in the water one or two days before they are lifted, the fish are mostly all alive and fresh when taken from the nets.

Mrs. A. F. Townsend and daughter, Mrs. Robert Meek, Janesville, were Cainsville visitors, between trains Thursday.

Mr. Turner returned Friday night from Chicago and Zion City, where he had been visiting.

"The fish that are caught on the hooks are all alive and it is very seldom that an undersized trout less than the law allows is caught on the hooks. With the gill nets a mesh of 2 and one-half inches stretch measure is allowed by law for catching herring, chubs and bluefish. A goodly number of small lake trout are caught in them. The length of the lake trout that is allowed by law to be caught is 12 inches in length and it takes from 4 to 6 of these small fish to make a pound in weight. This should not be allowed. We are recommending to the legislature that no lake trout be allowed to be placed on the market of less than sixteen inches in length. This will bring the weight of small trout allowed to be placed on the market one pound in the round.

"There are many tons of these small undersized fish taken from the waters every season. If these fish are left it does not cost anything to feed them and they grow into value very rapidly. The size of mesh that is adopted for the catching of these kinds of fish in certain portions of the lake at certain seasons should not be allowed at another section of the lake as the fish that are caught vary in different localities. At the same time a law in regulation that would apply to waters of Milwaukee should not be allowed to apply in the waters in the vicinity of Bailey's harbor.

"A greater many fishermen are advocating a legal mesh and all fish caught in the nets, a lawful fish. In the Lake Superior waters, in and about the Apostle Islands, during the month of June when the fish come to the top of the water, fishermen and others have great sport catching the fish on a rolling line behind a launch, using herring for bait."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Andrew and daughters motored here from Belleville, Sunday. Mrs. Andrew will remain several days visiting relatives.
